

To All On the World Peace Alliance Mailing from Bruce Kettler

Today is June 12, 2011. The most recent good news was that in Switzerland, where the “Elite” of the world are meeting, the Swiss Parliament went against the Bilderberg group, and there was shown a plan to arrest one of the Bilderberg members, Henry Kissinger, for war crimes. All this news shatters the illusion that the so-called “elite” are invincible.

It's important to note that information about the events on this planet are important to know, and such knowledge is not going to necessarily bring “bad vibes,” as the expression goes. No, rational people do not consider authentic information to be “negative thinking.” Even the senseless murder in Lybia, with approval from the U.N., must be known by the people of the world, and “bad vibes” will not necessarily be the result. It is a lie that on 9/11/01, the twin towers were supposedly taken down by “terrorists” from other lands. The truth is the event took place through internal authority. Knowledge of that fact is one of many that will help to set the people of the world free. “The truth will set you free.” (Jesus Christ)

Goals are essential on a world scale, and in our individual lives. World Peace is our goal, and it comes from inner peace. For the individual, to maintain peace it is essential that we understand we must have internal peace no matter what events occur in our lives, whether we find them all working as we planned, or not. There is power within all of us to make positive changes, but until we make them, sometimes events spin out of control.

The question of destiny and free will has continually been discussed amongst philosophers for centuries. Can one overrule the other? So many have written of future events on our earth, as if they must take place. Such perceived events are, often enough, just probabilities. In the end, minds, whether incarnate or not, control events and all of material existence. That is a major theme of World Peace Alliance.

In individual lives, the question comes up quite often regarding one's physical location, and the people one interacts with. Which of our friendships, marriages, and alliances are destined, and can they be changed? Some can, and others cannot. There are so many different circumstances, one can only say that the answer is within the individual, though there are a good many methods to help. One is Astrology. Another is synchronicity. Your dreams can help. Then, to quiet the mind and develop intuition, there is meditation.

On the sea of life, we all have different gifts to enable the people of the rest of the planet to prosper, and grow spiritually. It is essential that every gift be utilized to everyone's full benefit, or we can stagnate. We are here to give, and to exchange energy, wisdom, money, and material goods. It's at times a stormy sea we travel upon, and other times tranquil and calm. We must continue to steer our ships, and watch the winds of destiny, along with the tides, so that we are not going against anything, but are rather flowing with all that is.

Please come visit WORLD PEACE ALLIANCE and check out some recent additions. One is an article about MIND CONTROL methods clicked to at the top of the page. Another is written descriptions of our archived messages. Click at “archives.”
