

Here we will list 4 recent successful revolutions:

In Iceland, recently they kicked out the banksters. [bankers who are gangsters] It was peaceful and lawful.

In India, Ghandi freed India from British rule. Denial was not part of his program:

<http://www.rschindler.com/gandhi.htm>

It was not that he focussed upon the worst conditions that existed. His focus was on the solution, not the problem. But, he did not deny the existence of those conditions. He did not stop examining, and investigating, them.

This one was in Estonia:

<http://www.singingrevolution.com>

This one ended, and was won because of action from the military.

<http://www.psicounsel.com/oat.html#shoot>

Fear and Love:

In the Christian religion, it's taught that "Perfect Love casts out all fear."

In other teachings, it's the same. Here's a song.

Whenever a person, with love are begins to bring changes into their life, or the life of the entire world, and fear enters in, they are blocking the manifestation, or bringing only an incomplete manifestation..

Like it to a glass that is filled to the top with ingredients. If you fill it with love, and leave no room for fear, that is pure love.

Please revisit the site again:

<http://worldpeacealliance.com>